

Concept Mapping

Concept mapping can occur in many different ways. Two types of concept mapping activities are

- a traditional concept mapping exercise where students brainstorm words related to an idea and place the connections amongst them.
- provide words related to concepts in a unit of study, and have students organize and create the linking connections between them.